Program Features

NLDP is more than just a conventional leadership program; it is designed to fundamentally change how participants view leadership, themselves, and their communities. The program fosters deep self-awareness, challenges existing beliefs, and encourages participants to develop a vision that aligns with the unique cultural, social, and economic contexts of the North. By emphasizing transformation, the NLDP aims to create leaders who can drive sustainable change in their communities.

Leadership tools and frameworks introduced in the NLDP are not isolated modules, but are instead integrated throughout the entire program. This approach reinforces learning and allows for the practical application of skills in a way that builds on previous knowledge, promoting a continuum of growth.

What makes this program unique?

Specialized Instructors. The program features specialized and skilled facilitators for each module, each of whom is recognized for expertise in their area of instruction and have significant experience with leadership practices in the NWT.
